

Protecting privacy. Promoting transparency.

External Advisory Board Information and Privacy Commissioner for British Columbia

Dr. Ben Goold, Faculty of law, University of British Columbia--Ben Goold holds degrees in law and economics from the University of Tasmania as well as a BCL and doctorate from the University of Oxford where he studied as a Rhodes Scholar. His major research interests include privacy rights, the use of surveillance technologies by the police and intelligence communities, and the rhetoric and language of human rights. Dr. Goold joined the UBC Faculty of Law as an Associate Professor in January 2010. He is the author of numerous works on privacy, surveillance, and security, including CCTV and Policing (Oxford University Press; shortlisted for the British Criminology Book Prize in 2005) and Security and Human Rights (Hart Publishing; edited with Liora Lazarus).