

Open Decisions Licence — Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner for British Columbia and the Office of the Registrar of Lobbyists for British Columbia, version 1.0

You are entitled to use the Information that is made available under this licence, regardless of its format, and by doing so You are unconditionally accepting the terms and conditions set out below. If You do not agree with these terms and conditions, You must not use any of the Information.

1. Grant of Licence

1.1 The Offices grant You a worldwide, royalty-free, perpetual, non-exclusive licence to use the Information, including for commercial purposes, in accordance with and subject to the conditions set out below.

2. Permitted Uses

2.1 You are permitted to:

- (a) use, copy and reproduce the Information, in whole or in part;
- (b) modify the medium or format of the Information;
- (c) publish, distribute, translate and otherwise communicate the Information to the public;
- (d) index the Information and provide search, retrieval and citation services in respect of it;
- (e) analyse the Information, including by automated means, and publish the results of that analysis; and
- (f) include all or any portion of the Information in Your own product, application or service, including in combination with other information.

2.2 For greater certainty, and subject to section 3, the permitted uses in section 2.1 include:

- (a) the use of the Information as Training Data, including for pre-training, fine-tuning, distillation, alignment and reward modelling;
- (b) the creation and distribution of datasets, corpora and collections of embeddings derived from the Information; and
- (c) the acquisition of the Information by automated or systematic means, in accordance with section 3.1(i).

2.3 No fee is payable and no permission need be sought for any use permitted by this section.

3. Conditions

3.1 Where You do any of the things permitted by section 2, You must:

- (a) Source. Identify the relevant Office as the source of the Information.
- (b) Unofficial status. State, in a manner reasonably prominent in the medium used, that Your reproduction is not an official version of the Information and that the official version is held by the OIPC or ORL. Where the medium is the output of a Machine Learning System, this condition is satisfied by a statement accompanying the output.
- (c) No holding out. Not present, describe or permit to be understood as the Information, or as a decision, order or reasons of the OIPC or ORL, any text that is not a faithful reproduction of the Information, including any text generated by a Machine Learning System. Where a Machine Learning System produces a summary, paraphrase or description of the Information, the output must clearly not be presented as the text of the Information itself.
- (d) No endorsement. Not suggest or imply that Your product, application, service or Machine Learning System has been produced in affiliation with, or with the endorsement, approval or certification of, the OIPC or ORL.
- (e) Privacy and publication restrictions. Not name or identify any person whom the Information does not name; not determine or publish the identity of such a person, whether from the Information alone or in combination with any other source; and not act so as to defeat any order restricting publication, access or disclosure made in the proceeding to which the Information relates.
- (f) No individual profiling. Not compile or distribute any dossier, score, rating or predictive assessment concerning an identifiable party, witness, or decision-maker, derived from the Information. This condition does not restrict the analysis or publication of outcomes in aggregate, or research concerning the conduct of proceedings generally.
- (g) Currency. Subscribe to relevant RSS feeds at <https://www.oipc.bc.ca/rss/> or <https://www.lobbyistsregistrar.bc.ca/rss/> and, within 30 days of a correction, amendment, publication restriction or withdrawal being published there, cease to present the superseded or withdrawn material in any retrieval result, citation or output of a Machine Learning System, and cease to distribute it in any dataset or corpus. It is not a condition of this licence that the parameters of a Machine Learning System be altered.
- (h) Disclosure of training use. Where You use the Information as Training Data, publish a statement to that effect, reasonably accessible to users of the resulting Machine Learning System, together with an address at which You may be contacted in respect of this licence.
- (i) Orderly acquisition. Where You acquire the Information by automated or systematic means, use the RSS Feeds at <https://www.oipc.bc.ca/rss/> or <https://www.lobbyistsregistrar.bc.ca/rss/> where one is available, identify Yourself by a stable user agent and contact address, observe any published rate limits, and not acquire the Information in a manner that materially degrades access for others.

- (j) Pass-through. Ensure that any person to whom You supply the Information, or any dataset or corpus derived from it, receives it subject to the terms of this licence.

3.2 The following attribution statement satisfies section 3.1(a) and (b):

“This material contains information made available by [the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner for British Columbia (OIPC) or the Office of the Registrar of Lobbyists for British Columbia (ORL)]. It is not an official version of that information and has not been produced in affiliation with, or with the endorsement of, the [OIPC or ORL]”

4. Uses Not Licensed

4.1 This licence does not grant any right in respect of:

- (a) the official marks, name, seal, coat of arms and other insignia of the OIPC or ORL, which may not be reproduced for any purpose without written authorization; or
- (b) any material in which a third party holds intellectual property rights, including material reproduced within the Information under the authority of that party.

5. Termination and Reinstatement

5.1 The conditions in section 3 are important. If You fail to comply with any of them, the rights granted to You under this licence end automatically without notice being provided to You.

5.2 Where the failure is capable of remedy, the rights granted under this licence are reinstated automatically if You remedy the failure within 30 days of becoming aware of it, whether by notice from the OIPC, the ORL, or otherwise.

5.3 Section 5.2 does not apply to a failure to comply with section 3.1(c) or (e) that continues after the OIPC or the ORL has given You notice of it.

6. No Warranty

6.1 The Information is licensed on an “as is” basis and the OIPC or ORL make no representation or warranty of any kind, express or implied, as to its accuracy, completeness, currency or fitness for any purpose.

6.2 The OIPC or ORL are not liable for any errors or omissions in the Information and will not under any circumstances be liable to You or any third party for any direct, indirect, special, incidental, consequential or other loss, injury or damage of any kind caused by its use or any reliance upon the Information, or otherwise arising in connection with this licence, even if specifically advised of the possibility of such loss, injury or damage. The OIPC or ORL do not guarantee the continued supply or availability of the Information.

7. Governing Law

7.1 This licence is governed by the laws of the Province of British Columbia and the applicable laws of Canada. Legal proceedings related to this licence may only be brought in the courts of British Columbia.

8. Definitions

8.1 In this licence, the terms defined below have the following meanings:

- (a) “OIPC” means the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner for British Columbia.
- (b) “ORL” means the Office of the Registrar of Lobbyists for British Columbia.
- (c) “Offices” means the ORL and OIPC.
- (d) “Information” means the decisions, reasons for decision, orders, policies, guidance documents, reports, news releases, speeches and other material prepared by or for the Offices and published by the Offices, and any other information offered for use under the terms of this licence.
- (e) “Machine Learning System” means a computational system whose behaviour is derived in whole or in part from parameters determined by the automated analysis of data.
- (f) “Training Data” means material used as input to the process by which the parameters of a Machine Learning System are determined or adjusted.
- (g) “You” or “Your” or “Yourself” means the natural or legal person, or body of persons corporate or incorporate, acquiring or exercising rights under this licence on their own behalf or on behalf of any third party.

9. Versioning

9.1 This is version 1.0 of the Open Decisions Licence – OIPC/ORL. The Offices may make changes to the terms of this licence from time to time and issue a new version of this licence. Your use of the Information will be governed by the terms of the licence in force as of the date You accessed the Information.
