

OFFICE OF THE
INFORMATION &
PRIVACY COMMISSIONER
FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA

Job Posting:

Director of Emerging Information and Privacy
Technologies

Band 4 – Permanent, Full-Time

Starting Salary: $105,900.12 – 140,800.04

Victoria, BC

The Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC) provides independent oversight and enforcement of BC's access and privacy laws under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) and the Personal Information Protection Act (PIPA).

The Director leads a cross-functional team of investigative, policy, and legal professionals to advance the Office's regulatory framework, workflows, and understanding of emerging technology so that the office can quickly respond to projects, legislation, and complaints about emerging information and privacy technologies. The Director will be responsible for recruiting members of this team, commencing with a Senior Investigator and a Senior Policy Analyst within the first year.

As a member of the Senior Leadership team this position provides expert advice and direction on emerging information and privacy technologies and establishes policies/frameworks/protocols that have impact across the office and province.

We are striving to build a diverse team to represent the population we serve and to better meet the needs of our citizens. We encourage applications from Indigenous, Black or racialized persons, women, people with diverse gender identities or expressions, and/or people with disabilities.
